Close this activity by considering the following:

- Saints challenge us to be more than we would be on our own. They show us daring, exciting, and noble things that can and should be done.
- Saints inspire us. When life seems dull, saints add excitement—there are still good and exciting people around to admire!
- Saints show us what to be and do. When we are confused about what we ought to be like or what we ought to do with our lives, saints give us examples to follow. Saints encourage us. When we feel like failures, knowing that a saint we admire also struggled helps us realize there's still hope for us..
